Maximum Tax Levies Reduced.

Oklahoma City, Ok., May 16.—Maximum tax levies that may be made by excise boards or by vote of the people were reduced by the Carr-Baker-Sutherland act which is pending before Gov. Cruce for approval. The limit for county levies was reduced from five to four mills, with an allowance of one mill additional for the common schools. Where the assessed valuation of a county is less than $4,000,000 the county levy shall not exceed six mills for current expenses, and one mill in aid of the common schools.

The city levy is reduced from seven to six mills, the incorporated town from five to four mills, township from three to one and one-half mills, and the school district for the support of the common schools, five mills, all as maximums.

The term "current expenses," as used in the act, does not include the annual sinking fund to pay the bonded indebtedness of such county, city, township, town or school district at its maturity, or the interest falling due on the outstanding bonded indebtedness, or any judgment against the political subdivision.

IRVING AND WILLARD SCHOOLS CELEBRATE

Friday afternoon the pupils of Irving school gave their May Day program as per schedule. The program as announced in the News was carried out and the pupils acquitted themselves with credit both to themselves and their teachers. A large number of parents and friends were present to witness the sports.

The Willard school held a reception and exhibited much of the work done by the pupils of the school. The little folks had done much written work that was highly creditable and some of this was illustrated by drawings they had made.

NATIONAL BANK FOR FRANCIS

At a largely attended meeting of the business men and citizens of Francis, held at the Richey building last Friday night, the preliminary steps were taken to organize a national bank. Mr. Adams, representing the group of capitalists of which P. A. Norris of Ada, is a member, addressed the meeting and assured those present that the interests whom he represented were well pleased with the prospects of Francis and would furnish any amount of capital needed to establish a national bank here. The men furnishing this capital will retain a controlling interest, but will sell any amount of the remaining stock to local citizens.

Nearly every one present agreed to take stock and Mr. Adams stated that the matter could be declared settled and that application would at once be made for a charter. The capital stock will be $25,000.00. It is probable that $10,000 will be taken by Francis citizens.—Wigwam.

LEGISLATURE TAKES RECESS

TO MEET AGAIN JUNE 23. FIGHT OVER APPROPRIATION BILLS

Oklahoma City, May 17.—Technically, the Oklahoma state legislature has recessed until June 23; practically, the clocks in both houses are stopped and both will be in session Saturday to finally clear their calendars and prepare to actually take the recess.

Both houses passed the joint resolution providing for the recess Friday, but did not complete their work. The senate was in session Friday night until midnight and both houses will start working again Saturday at 9 o'clock.

The general revenue bill providing for nearly $1,000,000 for the state departments was passed by the senate at 11:00 o'clock Friday night after it had been amended so as to exclude all reference to inheritance tax. The vote on final passage was 29 to 6.

Senator Jones of Creek county,

If you Value Your Eyesight, see An Expert Optometrist. I have spent 20 years preparing myself to perfect the refraction of the eye. My moderate fee is your guarantee of satisfaction. A. D. COON, Ramsey's Drug Store, Ada, Okla.

made several unsuccessful attempts to add a "rider" repealing the tax ferret law. One of his amendments was directly repealing the tax ferret law, which was ruled out on a point of order, and the second amendment, it was alleged by some of his colleagues, was so worded as practically to kill the efficiency of the tax ferret's work.

The appropriation bill for the maintenance and support of the state university at Norman, carrying an item of $100,000 for the erection of a new science hall, which was reinserted in the measure by the conference committee, was defeated in the senate late Friday afternoon. The bill was referred to conference with the general understanding that the science hall item would be eliminated entirely from the bill or greatly reduced. The presence of this item in the measure is believed to have been the cause of the defeat of the bill.

The item for $100,000 for the science hall was included in the bill as passed by the house but was stricken out by the senate committee on appropriations. Several unsuccessful attempts were made to have it reinserted when the bill was under consideration by the senate Thursday afternoon. The house refused to concur in the elimination of this item, the senate refusing to recede, and the bill went to a conference where the item was reinstated.

The conference committee also increased the maintenance appropriation for the second year from $150,000 to $160,000. There is no objection to this amendment. The revenue the institution will receive from the section 13 fund the second year will be $10,000 less than the first year and the addition was made to make up the difference. The conference report making these amendments was adopted, 19 to 17, and the bill as a whole was defeated by a vote of 20 to 16.

The M. E. church south has an organized choir and invite every one that can sing to come and help them out.

J. E. Russell will spend Sunday with parents at Sulphur.

Pimples Should Be Watched

May be Means of Absorbing Disease Germs in Most Unexpected Manner.

The world renowned laboratory of the Swift Specific Company has collected a vast amount of information regarding the spread of blood diseases. In thousands of instances the most virulent types have been the result of coming in contact with disease germs in public places, and the apparently insignificant pimple has been the cause. It spreads with astonishing rapidity, often infecting the entire system in a few days.

It is fortunate, however, that there is a remedy to cope quickly and thoroughly with such a condition, and thanks to the energy of its producers the famous S. S. S. may now be had at almost any drug store in the civilized world.

This preparation stands alone as a blood purifier. It is somewhat revolutionary in its composition, since it accomplishes all that was ever claimed for mercury, iodides, arsenic, and other destructive mineral drugs, and yet it is absolutely a purely vegetable product.

It contains one ingredient which serves the active purpose of stimulating each tiny cellular part of the tissues to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. There are more cases of articular rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, paresis, neuritis, and similar diseases resultant from the use of minerals than most people are aware of. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book compiled by the medical department of The Swift Specific Co., 137 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with a special letter of advice, to all who are struggling with a blood disease.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day of your druggist. It will surprise you with its wonderful action in the blood.

A BIG PICNIC AT BYRD'S MILL

HOW TO TREAT

AILING CHILDREN

Growing children play hard and work hard at school, which with rapid growth uses up an enormous amount of energy and vitality that must be replaced.

When a child is tired all the time, no appetite, weak, delicate and sickly we guarantee Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, will build them up, create a hearty appetite, sound flesh and muscle tissue, pure healthy blood, and make them strong.

Mary Lang of Altoona, Pa., writes: "Every since childhood I have been weak and delicate and my blood has been thin and poor. Many different forms of treatment did me no good, but last spring I took Vinol and now I am so much stronger and better that I want you to know it. I don't know when I have felt so well and vigorous as have since taking Vinol."

If Vinol fails to do just what we say, we will give back your money. Gwin & Mays Drug Co., Ada, Okla.

LADY DEPUTIES

HOLD POSITIONS

County Attorney's Opinion in Regard to Deputy County Officers and Justices of the Peace in Cities of the First Class.

To the Editor of the Ada News: In your issue of May 16th, I notice some comment relative to county officers, which has created no little discussion on the part of the court officials and the members of the bar at Ada, as well as many other cities in the State of Oklahoma, and as many of the city of Ada have asked for an expression of my opinion, I give the following:

Article 2, Section 15, of the Constitution of the State of Oklahoma reads as follows:

"No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, nor any law, impairing the obligation of contracts shall ever be passed."

My understanding of the law relative to the above question is that at the time of the election of the two justices of the peace of the City of Ada, that Section 1549 of the Harris-Day code was not the law in the State of Oklahoma, neither was said section the law at the time that the county stenographer, Miss Browder, was appointed and took the oath of office; neither was it the law at the time Miss Holland and Miss Fields, in the office of the Register of Deeds were appointed and qualified, but that under the laws in force at the time of their appointment and qualification the county judge had a right to appoint a lady stenographer, who, by virtue of her office, was ex-officio clerk of the county court, as would also the register of deeds have the same authority.

As I see it, there can be no question but that the young ladies above referred to entered upon the duties of their office as was provided at that time by the statute of the State of Oklahoma, and that in so doing the section of the Harris-Day code above referred to, would operate as a retroactive law, if such statute could serve to deprive them of the offices now held by each of them.

It is being contended by some that the offices of the Justice of the Peace, under Section 2053 of the Harris-Day code, would divest the authority of the Justice of the Peace from our present incumbent.

These men, Justice Brown and Justice Powers, were duly elected on the 5th day of November, 1912, as was provided by law at that date, and duly qualified on the 1st Monday in January, 1913, for the term of two years.

No one will question the fact that they were elected and entered upon the duties of their offices, and thereupon become the duly elected, qualified and acting justice of the peace of Ada township.

The Harris-Day code therefore, if it served the purpose to oust them, or render them incompetent, would, as aforesaid, take the role of a retroactive law.

The law creating the office of county stenographer was in full force and effect, which is undisputed, until this disturbance over Section 1549 of the Harris-Day code, as was also the offices of deputy register of deeds.

That being the case, it is my opinion that the Harris-Day code will not, and does not affect present office holders, and was not the intent or law, and could only be effective, be the purpose of the makers of that ginning January, 1915, as will also apply to the office of Justice of the Peace.

Section 1548 of the Harris-Day code specifies what officers are to be elected in each county of this state. Therefore it is the opinion of the county attorney's office that section 1549 relative to appointees has direct reference to those persons appointed to fill a vacancy, caused by the resignation, death or removal of one who would be regularly elected, and not to assistants as referred to.

Respectfully,
R. C. ROLAND,
County Attorney.

The De Sota had arranged for an exhibition of talking pictures this evening, but Manager Chauncey learning that it was not up to his expectations and perhaps that of his patrons, cancelled the engagement. The old portrait taken twenty years ago, made him look so serious and old-fashioned—not a bit like he really is.

CARDUI WORKED LIKE A CHARM

After Operation Failed to Help, Cardui Worked Like a Charm.

Jonesville, S. C.—"I suffered with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. J. S. Kendrick, in a letter from this place, "and at times, I could not bear to stand on my feet. The doctor said I would never be any better, and that I would have to have an operation, or I would have a cancer.

I went to the hospital, and they operated on me, but I got no better. They said medicines would do me no good, and I thought I would have to die.

At last I tried Cardui, and began to improve, so I continued using it. Now, I am well, and can do my own work. I don't feel any pains.

Cardui worked like a charm."

There must be merit in this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women—Cardui—for it has been in successful use for more than 50 years, for the treatment of womanly weakness and disease.

Please try it, for your troubles.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS

Because It's for One Thing Only, and Ada People Appreciate This.

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing will bring success. Doan's Kidney Pills are for one thing only.

For weak or disordered kidneys. Here is Ada evidence to prove their worth.

Mrs. S. T. Williams, 119, W. Thirtieth, Ada, Okla., says:

"I have used Doan's Kidney Pills in the family and the results have been fine. They were taken for disordered kidneys and backache. A complete cure was made."

The above statement must carry conviction to the mind of every reader. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Williams had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50 cents all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Junior Reception.

The greatest thing in the social line in the history of the Normal was the junior reception to the seniors given in the Normal library and reception room Monday night. The junior class established a precedent that will likely remain for a long time. The class certainly showed that it knows how to do things in the most up-to-date style.

The library was beautifully decorated with pennants and senior colors. The guests were conducted to this apartment immediately upon arriving at the building, and were permitted to enroll in Good Time College. The enrollment was conducted by President Harvey Black and Secretary Minnie Granger. After the guests had enrolled in their respective classes, they were conducted by Prof. Wilson the librarian, to their respective classes. The class work now began in earnest.

Misses Fannie Henderson and Beatrice Craig were teachers of the senior class, Misses Ruth Sowers and Vallie Price of the junior, Misses Agnes Rooney and Beatrice Rogers of the sophomore, and Misses Willie Faust and Leone Steed of the freshman.

Several of the students were successful and received their diplomas, but a great many failed in their examinations, and had to take an extra year.

After the college course had ended the guests were conducted to the reception room and banqueted in superb style. The banquet was served by four charming sophomores, Maud Brents, Inez Cameron, Allie Price and Helen Lee. Toasts were given by Misses Willie Faust, Beatrice Wood, Ruth Sowers and Prof. E. C. Wilson. At 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, the crowd of merry makers departed, every one feeling that the juniors and seniors were friends indeed.

Are You One of These?

The News has on its books quite a neat sum from want ads which have been ordered, usually by phone. Most of these are for only a few cents, but it takes as much time and trouble to post them up as it would accounts of as many dollars. If you happen to owe one or more of these, won't you kindly settle at once, and try to pay in advance next time? By so doing you will greatly oblige the News force.

The DAUGHTER of DAVID KERR

"That's the Chicago point of view," answered Kendall. "Stripped of legal verbiage, what you want is to lay railroad tracks, on which will run cattle trains, down a pretty residence street and use a park for terminals, all without giving property owners or the city adequate compensation for ruining or confiscating their property. I call that pretty raw."

"Well, it's our best and certainly our cheapest way if Kerr will put through a franchise for us," Kendall maintained stubbornly. "I'll come back next week and take the matter up again. In the meantime you can talk it over thoroughly with Kerr. He may have something to say by that time."

"It hardly seems likely. He seldom changes his mind."

"He may this time. I've got to get away now and go by the hotel before I go to the train. Let's go back to the drawing-room, where I can have a few more words with Wright. We may be able to win him over."

"That's what I'm going to try to do," replied Judge Gilbert, as they rose to rejoin Mrs. Gilbert and her guests.

The attorneys entered the drawing-room to find a discussion regarding newspapers just drawing to a close with victory still uncertain on which standard to perch.

"You just missed hearing Dr. Hayes pay his respects to newspapers, Judge Gilbert," said Joe Wright with a smile. The layman's opinions always interested and usually amused a journalist.

"What's the matter? Have you told him you won't publish the box scores of the ball games this year?"

"I'll do that for him, and gladly."

"Then there's no occasion to kick. That's the only thing that can trouble a fat man."

"This time I was speaking generally," explained Hayes. "I don't like some of the ways reporters have."

"That's only a small part of the business," laughed Wright. "If you complain only about that I shall have you for a staunch adherent."

Mrs. Hayes saw that Kendall was at a loss to understand the drift of the conversation, and accordingly said, "Dr. Hayes is coarser, Mr. Kendall, and the Banner man calls us up at most unearthly hours."

The Belmont Banner was the morning paper, and its editor, Deacon Jerry Withrow, was always at the beck and call of the boss. Kerr let him think that he had something to do with directing the affairs of the city. This was a harmless delusion, since its pliant attitude always made him consider a suggestion let fall by the boss as a scheme which he himself had hatched.

"I think it is dreadful for nice men to be mixed up in politics," said Mrs. Gilbert.

Perhaps it was no more dreadful than was the lack of knowledge of politics displayed by the nice women of Belmont. This would have been difficult to impress upon Mrs. Gilbert. She knew well enough that her husband was consulted by that odious David Kerr, but that was in a legal way and Kerr paid well for the advice he received. Even the tone in which she spoke showed how thankful she was her husband was not in politics. Mrs. Hayes was quick to say what she thought along the same line by adding:

"And Dr. Hayes doesn't have to at all, you know. He says he does it for the good of the party."

This would have been all very interesting to Kendall if he had had the entire evening to spend in such pleasant company. Time was pressing, however, and in the few minutes still at his disposal he wished to sound Wright at greater length about the Belmont News.

Kendall looked closely at the young man whom he had already set down as an opponent. Physically Wright seemed no shirker of a combat. His shoulders were broad and his body well developed. Led to believe from his knowledge of the reformer type that he would find Joe Wright a long-haired theorist and Utopian dreamer, the lawyer found instead a self-possessed, well-balanced young man. The newspaper owner's manner, even in repose, was judicial. To Kendall's thinking he had the air of a man who would not be swayed by prejudice or liking. It was his part, however, as a special pleader, to make Wright think himself too much an idealist— if he could—in opposing the just claims of the stock-yard company.

"I suppose you found the News somewhat run down when you took hold of it," Kendall remarked casually.

"Yes, the name was about all I bought."

"I thought the paper had a pretty good mechanical plant," interjected Gilbert.

Instinctively Wright felt the concerted action masked under the innocent question and the remark by Gilbert. Just what Kendall had to gain he did not know, but since he recognized him as a representative of large interests he thought best to let him know what stand the News might be expected to take. It was just as well that Gilbert should have it clearly in mind also. If the clients of these men were playing the game fair and square they would welcome his kind of newspaper. If they weren't, and Wright knew there had been lapses from grace on the part of some of them, he hoped they would recognize in the paper the power which would first seek to prevent, and, failing in this, then try to correct. Judge Gilbert's allusion to the good mechanical plant he seized upon for a text.

"That's true, the News has a good mechanical plant." He paused to let that sink in before he continued.

"Somehow or other when I think of a newspaper I never think of that side of it. I have in mind only the feeling of confidence with which a newspaper inspires its readers."

"What do you think the ideal newspaper is like?" asked Judge Gilbert. He wanted to know to what kind of star this young man had hitched his wagon.

"The ideal newspaper is one which has no ax to grind, and no personal animus in the discussion of private affairs or public questions, but only a constant regard for the truth and the lasting welfare of the state."

Kendall went to what he considered the heart of the matter.

"Aren't you leaving out of consideration, Mr. Wright, that everything—this government, even—is but a compromise?"

"No, I recognize that, and I believe in compromise. Without it we would still be cave dwellers. It is exactly because of this everpresent compromise that an honest newspaper is so valuable. It must see to it that this compromise is open and above board. It mustn't be the give-and-take trade of low politicians in the back room of a saloon or the far more dangerous trades of men higher up and powerful interests; not that kind of compromise, which after all is a sale of something one does not legally own to one who cannot or will not secure it honestly. I tell you that the majority must rule fairly and with a proper deference for the rights of the minority, that's where a newspaper can be of service."

Having decided to deliver a broadside, Wright had gone about it with great enthusiasm. The sight of Mrs. Hayes gazing wonderingly at him, for she did not understand what he meant, caused the editor to break off with a laugh. He recognized that Judge Gilbert's drawing-room was not the proper place for a lengthy exposition of his views.

"I'm afraid I'm preaching," he apologized, "and there's nothing I hate more than that."

"Not at all," protested Kendall. "Your views interest me greatly, Mr.

NORMAL NOTES

By MOIKE CASSIDY.

The program for the Sunflower Minstrel entertainment, while carrying many of the traditional minstrel features, adds a number of new attractions—attractions never before presented on the minstrel stage. The musical program is especially attractive. The opening overture is the latest published and introduces the following sketches: Turkey in the Straw, Sally Ann, M-A-R-Y, Grogan's Band, Dad's Old Violin, John Brown O'Reilly, Dear Ole Pumpkin Man, and the Cuckoo Song and others as good. Other special song numbers are Lady Chloe, My Lady Angelina and Way Down South. Moonlight in Alabama will please. It is a plantation sketch in which the peculiar pathos and humor characteristic of the southern negro are blended under the influence of a stage setting quite in keeping with the plot, Old Kentucky Home, Suanee River, and Dixie are the song numbers of this sketch. Of course the dancing is introduced at this part of the program.

The closing scene, the Garden of Sunflowers, featuring Mammy Loo is one of the most original numbers ever produced in Ada.

Every number is worth the price of admission.

The rehearsal of the SUNFLOWER MINSTRELS last night was even more successful than those just preceding and every one connected with the production is in high glee over the prospects of its being the "best ever." Tickets will be placed on sale this evening at six o'clock at all drug stores and they may be reserved after that time at Ramsey's. The greatest crowd that has ever witnessed a theatrical production in Ada will probably witness the show. Requests for reservations are coming in from all quarters but none will be made before the time stated and at the place mentioned. Get your tickets early.

The stage presents a rather unique appearance since its preparation for the performance of the young Cohans and Colliers. The rear part has been built up and the wings will be placed as far out as possible. It was thought at first that the stage would not permit of the elaborate production but the work done on it has put it in first class shape for the big show.

Pres. Briles is expected back from Wynnewood where he made an address to the graduates of that High school.

Prof. Perkins returned this morning from Wetumka where he made a talk for the closing of the school.

Oscar Kimbrough will spend Sunday with friends and relatives returning in time for the dressed rehearsal Monday night.

The Senior class leaves this afternoon for Konawa where they will present the "Peacemaker."

The play is a four act drama depicting the scenes of a modern strike and showing how it was peacefully ended. The players have been under the direction of Prof. J. Frank Lilly, an athlete who remember the play "Comrades" which was directed by him, know that he is an artist. Great care has been taken in the selection of the players and as a result, represents the best talent in school. The "Peacemaker" will be presented at the Normal auditorium next Thursday night, May 22.

Boy Scouts Ice Cream Social.

Friday evening the Boy Scouts gave an ice cream social on the lawn of the Brents home for the purpose of raising funds to defray the expenses of their hike to Oklahoma City. It was a success beyond their fondest hopes and the sum of $23.30 was realized. The citizens of Ada feel a special interest in the scout movement and many attended the social and patronized it in a liberal manner for which the boys are duly grateful.

HOUSE PASSES CAPITOL BILL

Oklahoma City, May 17.—Finally passing the state capitol appropriation of $750,000, including in the bill the names of the commissioners and increasing their salaries from $2,500 to $3,000, the lower house of the Oklahoma legislature adopted a resolution providing a recess of one month beginning at 6 o'clock. The house clock was stopped at that hour. Rather than wait around nearly all night, the members of the house left the hall under agreement to meet again at 9 o'clock Saturday morning to finish up. The senate had agreed to complete its work by 10 o'clock, and the house will be ready to quit by noon. So that, while officially the house stands adjourned at 6 o'clock Friday afternoon, actually it will not adjourn till noon Saturday.

The bill was pending on a joint conference report in which differences between the upper and lower houses were adjusted and the names of the commissioners first mentioned. A resolution had been previously adopted authorizing Speaker Maxey to issue commissions to W. B. Anthony, P. J. Goulding and Stephen Douglas as members of the capitol board. A provision was attached to the bill that they shall be removable for cause by the speaker of the house and president of the senate.

The fate of the measure was in doubt till the last name was called, owing to the final determined efforts of Judge E. P. Hill, H. H. Smith and Representatives Glasco and Pinkham to break the organization majority. The vote was 54 to 18, with 25 absent. Three passed on the first call, and the bill had but 51 votes when the roll was completed. The 18 who voted against the bill were: Baum, Carr, Case, Edminster, Glasco, Hill of Pittsburg, Javner, Lewis, McGuire, Mitchell Pinkham, Rose, Sherman, Smith of Pottawatomie, Teehe, Tener, Testerman and Speaker Maxey.

The measure will go to the senate, and then to the governor for his signature. Ninety days from the date of final adjournment of the session must elapse before the bill becomes effective and the new commissioners take up their duties.
